AN INTRODUCTION TO POG
(Pre-Orthodontic Guidance)

Your child has been identified as a possible candidate for orthodontic treatment and has been placed in a reevaluation program to follow their growth and development until the appropriate corrective measures can be initiated. We call it our Pre-Orthodontic Guidance Program, or P.O.G. Throughout this program, we will continue to monitor your child's tooth and jaw development until the optimum development stage has been reached to begin active treatment. Your P.O.G. program may include:

- Treatment records to determine the present dental development
- An orientation visit to acquaint you with any further treatment recommendations
- Recommendations for possible primary (baby) tooth removal by your family dentist
- Possible interceptive treatment if conditions warrant it (any fees will be determined at that time)
- Your appointments will be approximately 3-6-12 month intervals until orthodontic treatment is started
